DeSantana contracts a limited amount of select projects each year, allowing for our personal attention and timely delivery of each phase of the project. If you currently have a project you're ready to start, or in the design stages, contact us today to begin the discussion.

Large Residential Projects

The benefits that our clients and the entire building & design teams experience when working with the creative team of DeSantana Stone are unsurpassed. Our professional guidance through the process starts with focused listening to understand the vision of our clients clearly, then material selections, design illustrations, CAD drawings, job-site management, including field measurements & analysis, and installation. Thorough, accurate & timely are the hallmarks of a DeSantana project.

Small Projects

The same amount of skill, discernment, enthusiasm & attention is focused on our small projects as on our large residential & commercial projects. DeSantana considers these fireplaces, corbels, columns, fountains, stair treads and cladding projects just as we think of all our building projects. We strive to provide integrity of material and exactness in the processes through delivery and installation.

"From the initial design phase through construction, delivery and installation, DeSantana was interactive, professional and resourceful."

Our Stone

DeSantana, along with partners in Italy, Central Mexico and the Yucatan have collaborated for three decades on many of the most stunning custom architectural stone projects in the United States, Canada and the Caribbean. We offer over 600 types of stone including Quartzite, marble and granite.

We are proud to showcase our selection of natural stones available for custom fabrication. Each quarry contains distinctive stones ranging from the consistent beauty and clarity of the Lecce Beige Limestone quarried in Southern Italy, to the rustic old-world charm of the myriad Cantera Stones of Central Mexico.

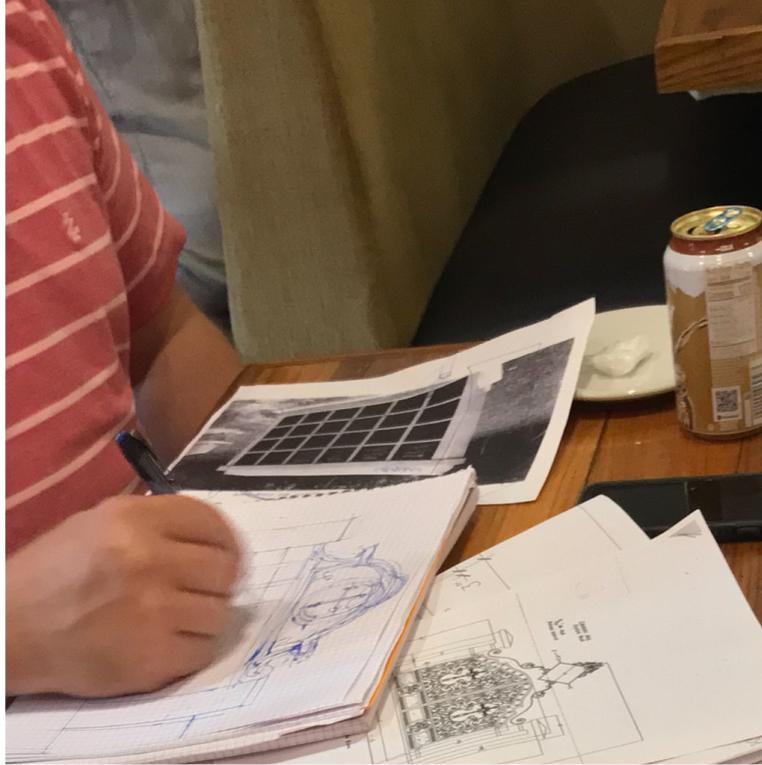

Our Team

Master craftsmen, Master draftsmen, Master fabricators.

As a full service supplier, DeSantana's team helps with design illustrations, CAD drawings, job site management - including field measuring, oversight and installation services.

Our team focuses on providing the highest level of expertise and service, and brings a wealth of experience, innovation, and clarity to every single project - from the quarry to the last detail of installation. The DeSantana team is committed to getting the details right in the design phase and carrying that focus through every segment of the process.

Our passion and attentive support flows throughout the process. DeSantana is known for listening to the client to help their vision come to fruition. Whenever feasible, we also take clients directly to the quarries abroad where they meet the multiple generations of master craftspeople and see the stone that will be used in their project. This is a feature of what we do that is both valuable and transformative.
